Mr. Turner,

What is your definition of due process? Time is of the essence at this point. Somewhat like an eviction notice. Maybe what we have here is a Donald Sterling, Penn state Football, Duke Lacrosse, Rutgers Basketball, and most recently North Carolina basketball all rolled in to one. From the looks of it I think I'm right on

I am curious however, that the athletic department was aware of this audio on June 6th (I can attach email showing the President and AD's acknowledgement of receipt) Norwood resigns on a Monday, and Chris Peterson makes the quote to the Troy Schulte on June 9th "Norwood was in good standing to return for 7th season." Hmmm. Looks like an attempted cover up is unfolding. If he was in good standing Mr. Peterson, then you should be fired.

I am still curious however that the part of the sexual harassment. [REDACTED] told me he was never asked about it from HR or Mr. Turner about his complaint. I believe it should be noted that Mr. Gordon did not complain of sexual harassment but merely reported a complaint from a student athlete. I guess Mr. Gordon does have some moral code to protect a student athlete.

Now, back to the NCAA infraction facts. Mr. Turner at this point I'm sure you realize this is not some joke. Your University does not want me leak the other facts, audio, or video that I have. I am sure there will be a media outlet that would be more than willing to compensate me for my knowledge. At this time over 20,000 people have heard what your tax payers have been employing. What idiot was in charge of hiring him? I can only imagine the number of views that would come out if Chris Peterson's recording with [REDACTED] leaked.

Also, Mr Turner. I received an email from Mr Gordon stating you had cleared him of any wrong doings as far as a recruiting during the dead period. See Below for the actual email. Mr. Turner I find it odd that you were also the person that Mr. Gordon originally reported the sexual case and drinking with players complaints to on March 24th during the team boycott, but took no immediate action. Yet, waited until Easter Sunday to secretly approach players to sign some sworn affidavit? The next day you fire/force to resign Coach Gordon due to his factual complaints (I spoke with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]). Is this a federal relation case we have before us????

That meeting (which Gordon has recorded) of Chris Peterson, Scott Norwood, Gary Hogan, and yourself is very interesting. All you talk about is [REDACTED]'s suicide situation, and some 3rd party comments. Im sure that is your athletic departments idea of due process.....

Mr. Gordon also allowed me to listen to the actual complaint where Mr. Hogan said to "not say a word, we can't let this get out"

Just so you know we have only just begun Mr. Turner. You either start playing by my rules on my time or you and the rest of your athletic department need to start planning for retirement. We have not even touched on the academic fraud side of your athletic department. Have a Great Weekend!!!!

Cole:

Thanks!

I spoke w/ [REDACTED] and his response is consistent.

Case closed.

I appreciate your help.

Regards!

Mr. Anderson,

As the president, I have to ask this. Why the heck did you not do anything when [REDACTED]'s family made the complaints to you years ago? Do you feel guilty for what you have allowed to happen to the students of your university? Or how your University is now viewed? I would if I were you. What if that was your child? Would you want your only child to be subject of the environment that you knew about and allowed? If so, your sick. The verbal abuse that has caused one student athlete to attempt suicide. How do you look yourself in the mirror to know that you allowed this. Do you realize how much information is out there now??? How did you ever allow your AD to hire Norwood or any person? You as an educated man knew and did not act! You are as guilty as Norwood and Peterson. There is something to be said about confession. Maybe you are your entire University should confess. Confess that you knew and always pushed it to the side. Either you all confess/resign or I slowly release everything which I promise will end all of your careers. After speaking to the former coaches and players I hope your check books run deep. Maybe God will forgive you, but the students athletes should not have to. Now would be a good time to lawyer up. Tick Tock
